The Cities Are Moving

Student guide

Created by Yoav Duman | Introductory international relations

You advise Aster as a neighboring city moves closer. Explain an agreement, investigate new evidence, and recommend what happens next. The cities and documents are fictional; everything you need about the case is in the game.

Start For Class. Enter your student name. Class or section is optional. Open For Class online

Your task

Use five approaches: realism and neorealism, economic interdependence, neoliberal institutionalism, democratic peace, and constructivism. A useful answer names a fact, explains how it could shape behavior, and connects that process to the decision being explained.

Plan about 205 minutes across exam-prep week. Allow 60 minutes for A, 75 for B, and 70 for C. Pause whenever needed. The 42 written responses total at least 1,425 words.

Keep the question in view

The protocol is already signed on Day 0. Explaining why it was adopted is different from advising how to implement or renew it. In Part B, the game also asks why Aster answered two escorts differently. Use the current task label to keep those questions separate.

In Part C, recall the five approaches and analyze a new wildfire aircraft pact. Record a 150-word comparison, review the rubric and example, then write an 80-word revision. Use the practice clock if helpful.

Work through the evidence

Use Evidence and theory when needed. Select the records you used and explain what they support. Try the knowledge checks and read the feedback. In assessed Class fields, type, dictate, or reuse text within the same answer.

Use Review my reasoning and the example explanations to check your work. Completion marks check required fields and selections; they do not grade your argument. A feedback flag marks a response in your portfolio. Share that portfolio with your instructor to request feedback.

Save and submit

Download a progress JSON at each pause. Restore it in the same mode on another device. For Class and For Fun keep separate progress.

Finish A, B, and C in order. Choose Print / Save PDF when the Class assignment is complete and upload the PDF to Canvas. Keep the progress JSON to resume.

For comfort, Settings offers larger text, stronger contrast, reduced motion, and text-first presentation. Focus view gives writing more space. A laptop or tablet is helpful for longer responses.